Bring webtoon readers to Web3

PROBLEM

Web 2 problem

Lack of Product Attraction

Webtoon platforms are struggling to captivate users from the enticing world of Web 3 due to a dearth of compelling products and experiences.

1

Missing Financial Tools

Within the Web 2 landscape, there's a significant gap in the availability of financial tools, stifling user engagement and limiting monetization opportunities for content creators and platform operators alike.

2

Blockchain Unfamiliarity

The majority of Web 2 users remain unacquainted with blockchain technology, posing a substantial barrier to their adoption of Web 3 platforms and services, thus hindering the industry's growth potential.

3

Web 3 problem

Absence of Real-Value Products

Despite the innovation within Web 3, there's a notable shortage of products offering tangible real-world value, impeding widespread adoption and long-term sustainability.

Growth user

The Web3 market needs to expand its user base and convert users from Web2 to Web3. However, the high costs of conversion and market education lead to Web3 market not being truly robust.

2

Lack of Community Loyalty

The decentralized nature of Web 3 has led to a lack of community loyalty, resulting in fragmented engagement and weakened network effects, hampering the growth and success of decentralized projects and platforms.
